Planning A Life

Making the Most Out of High School
for students with disabilities

Transition Works!

in partnership with Massachusetts Rehabilitation
Commission

Did you know that each year in Massachusetts, about 900 students with disabilities transition from high school, often unprepared to make real choices for a real life in the real world?

If you have a child with a disability approaching the ages of 14 to 21, this transition conference is an important opportunity for you.

Begin the transition planning process early and stay on schedule. Strategize now and prepare for a full productive life during and after high school.*

Two action-packed days are filled with information and resources that will support you to understand your role, rights and responsibilities in the transition planning process.

 To get the most out of the conference, we highly recommend that you attend a Basic Rights workshop (<http://fcsn.org/pti/workshops/home.php>) before attending the Planning A Life conference.*

A goal of the Planning A Life transition conference is to establish a statewide network of proactive, knowledgeable families and the professionals who serve them working to develop transition plans that:

- Assist students with disabilities to create a vision for high school and beyond.
- Identify necessary transition assessments to achieve that vision.
- Design supports & services that work!
- Explore student's special interests & provide innovative opportunities in school and in their community.
- Advance skills to prepare for post secondary education or successful employment opportunities.
- Encourage, support and celebrate all students!
